Comparison between Texts.

Mistakes in the first text.

1. Spacing error 'diffi culty'.
2. The words 'verb' and 'noun' are not typed in a different font. They are only made italic.
3. Hyphen used in wrong place 'design - in'.
4. Used hyphen instead of en dash '- not wholly -'.
5. En dash used instead of hyphen 'stand—by'.
6. Parts of the words were not omitted which makes this a mistake by using the ellipsis without any spaces. "intend..."
7. Break off into new paragraph when there was no need to. " Such categories blur some"
8. Start of sentence spacing too big ". Taking that old stand"
9. Same font used for name of the Oxford dictionary.
10. Start of the paragraph is indented as if it was following another paragraph. " Every human being is a designer. "

Analysis

By using Hochuli Detail in Typography I have been able to find mistakes in one of the text allowing me to differentiate the correct text from the wrong text. The things that I found most interesting was that I have been able to learn when and how to use ellipsis at the end of a word correctly. This is something I wasn't properly aware of before. I have also found interesting how to use hyphens and en dashes correctly.
